How to read the league tables

This column highlights the manager's performance in discrete one year time periods

This column identifies the funds currently managed by the individual manager in the specific sector. Funds have to be actively managed funds available to retail investors to qualify for inclusion. This means passive funds and institutional funds are excluded from analysis.

Statistics - 3 Years to end of September 2005

The named individual fund manager must be the lead manager or co-manager to qualify for a ranking.

Ratings based on each manager's risk-adjusted outperformance of their benchmark

The ranking gives the manager's relative position within the sector during the period under review. To qualify for a ranking the manager must have been active at or before the start of the analysis period and must also be currently managing a qualifying fund.

A manager's average monthly personal performance figure takes into account their work on the different funds they have run during the period under review within the Lipper Global Category under analysis. The percentage figure takes account of multiple funds run simultaneously or sequentially at the same or different management groups. The performance figure also takes account of the career breaks a manager may have taken. The calculation has been approved by independent actuaries.
